Sougia - The Fairy of Libyan Sea

Are you looking for your next destination to spend a relaxing holiday? In some cosmopolitan part of the world where you would go out every day and night to beaches, night clubs and restaurants for a good and ordinary meal? Or would you rather spend a relaxing holiday in a quiet and small seaside village with genuine traditional culture, food from local products and a carefree night on a large beach under the moonlight?

Introducing Sougia, an amazing destination you certainly do not know. Even if you have come even once, there are definitely many great locations, places and pictures in the area worth discovering.

The jewel of Libyan Sea, Sougia or Ancient Syia, is located 70 kilometers southwest of the city of Chania.. In the hippie era, in the 70's, Sougia was one of the favorite destinations of Crete after Matala. Today it is an ideal touristic and friendly family destination for peaceful holidays for many Greek and Foreign visitors.

It has all the types of accommodation you are looking for, taverns, restaurants, snack bars, cafes, bars, mini markets, ATM etc It is located at the exit of the gorge of Agia Irini and stands out for its relaxed and carefree atmosphere with its large beach.

Sougia - The Fairy of Libyan Sea

If you are looking for a place without a lot of people, for swimming in the clear blue and crystal clear waters of the Libyan Sea, sunbathing in the hot sun of Southern Crete, friendly atmosphere, carefree, relaxing holidays and hiking on its beautiful trails, Sougia is one prefecture of Chania that can offer you such a holiday.
